BIOGRAPHY

I am an oncology nurse and palliative care researcher, originally from Taiwan. I have been interested in end-of-life care and palliative care research and undertaking palliative care research and clinical practice for people living with cancer for more than ten years. During study for my undergraduate and masters degrees in Taiwan (completed in 2014), I developed a questionnaire to investigate the nurses' attitude and behavior toward end-of-life care among advanced cancer patients in inpatient hospitals. In 2016, I conducted a PhD in palliative care at the Cicely Saunders Institute of Palliative Care, Policy and Rehabilitation, King's College London, United Kingdom to receive postgraduate research training. I am particularly interested in advance care planning, medical decision-making at end-of-life and research methodology in palliative care.

During the three years of PhD study period, I published four high-quality research papers in advance care planning in the top-ranking journal (Palliative Medicine and Journal of Palliative Medicine). I delivered seven presentations at national and international congresses (e.g. European Association for Palliative Care) to disseminate the research results. I am involved in many international collaborations (e.g. WHO founded palliative care evaluation among six countries worldwide, Asia advance care planning Delphi study among six sectors, systematic review in advance care planning projects with Erasmus MC, the Netherland). I received funding and academic prizes along with the PhD study (e.g. Global Research Grant, NIHR CLAHRC thesis stipend, oral presentation prize in King's College London PhD conference). I am also appointed as visiting research fellow at Cicely Saunders Institute of Palliative Care, Policy and Rehabilitation, King's College London. Together, these publications, presentations, awards and international collaborations demonstrate my enthusiasm and success in conducting research in palliative care globally and generating ideas that have been judged by peers as being valuable scientific contributions. I am the principal investigator of a three-year project to develop an advance care planning program for community older people with chronic illness funded by National Science and Technology Council, Taiwan (ref: MOST 111-2314-B-A49 -012 -MY3). I am a passionate and diligent palliative care researcher, who is keen to advance research skills by working as an assistant professor in community health care, school of Nursing, National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University, Taiwan.

EDUCATION

- Master/Doctor of Philosophy in Palliative Care Research Sep. 2016 – May.2020
- King's College London, London, United Kingdom
 - Thesis: Developing a culturally-appropriate advance care planning for people living with advanced cancer and exploring its acceptability in Taiwan
 - Supervisor: Professor Richard Harding, Dr. Catherine Evans, Dr. Jonathan Koffman
- Master of Science in Nursing Sep. 2011 - Jun. 2014
- National Cheng Kung University, Tainan, Taiwan
(Major: Cancer care, Hospice & Palliative care; Average: 89.29%)
 - Thesis: The nurses' attitude and experience toward end-of-life care for terminally ill cancer patients
- Bachelor of Science in Nursing Sep. 2007 - Jun. 2011
- National Cheng Kung University, Tainan, Taiwan (Average: 85.74%)

RESEARCH INTERESTS

1. Advance care planning
2. Medical decision-making
3. Research methodology (mixed-methods) in Palliative Care
4. End-of-life care attitude and behavior survey
5. Global health and palliative care research

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENT AND ACTIVITIES

- Aisa-Pacifc Hospice Palliative Care Network (APHN) research committee member Feb. 2022-current
Serving as research committee member to integrat and facilitate palliative care research in Asia Pacific region
- Taiwan Cross-Cultural Health Care Association committee member Dec. 2021-current Serving as committee member to promote cross-cultural palliative care for indigenous people in Taiwan
- WHO Global Palliative Care Evaluation visiting research fellow Feb.2020-current
King's College London, London, United Kingdom
- Managing the project of WHO global evaluation in palliative care of six countries (Belarus, Jamaica, Oman, Thailand, Vietnam and Zimbabwe)
 - Delivering training to build up clinicians/researchers' capacity in palliative care research on site
- Advance Care Planning International committee board member August 2021-current
- One of seven committee members and the only Asian representative to promote advance care planning worldwide
- Research training fellow at Kaohsiung Medical University Hospital, Taiwan Oct 2018 – February 2019
- Collaborate with local medical staff (Dr. Ping-Jen Chen) on a feasibility study in terms of advance care planning program for people with cancer at Kaohsiung Medical University Hospital, Kaohsiung, Taiwan
- Reception and host of an international symposium in Taipei, Taiwan 2nd, May 2018

- Reception for Professor Julian Hughes and host an International Symposium of Patients with Impaired Mental Capacity
- Research training fellow in Taipei City Hospital, Taiwan Oct 2017 – May 2018
- Collaborate with local medical staff (Dr. Su-Hsuan Hsu) on developing an advance care planning project for people with cancer at Taipei City Hospital, Taipei, Taiwan
- Clinical and academic trainee at Chiba University, Chiba, Japan Jun. - Jul. 2013
- School of Nursing & Graduate school of Nursing
- Clinical and academic trainee at the Chinese University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong Jan. 2011
- Nethersole School of Nursing, Faculty of Medicine
- Clinical and academic trainee at University of Washington, Seattle, United States of America Jul. -Aug. 2010
- School of Nursing

WORK EXPERIENCES

- National Yang Ming Chiao Tung University – Assistant Professor Aug. 2020 – current
Institution of Community Health Care, School of Nursing, Taipei, Taiwan
- King’s College London visiting research fellow Feb 2021-Feb 2024
Cicely Saunders Institute of Palliative Care, Policy and Rehabilitation, King’s College London, London, UK
- World Health Organisation Collaborating Centre – Deputy Director Feb 2020 – Feb 2022
Cicely Saunders Institute of Palliative Care, Policy and Rehabilitation, King’s College London, London, UK
- Bridge the communication between College and WHO
 - Coordinate the research findings as reference to support WHO palliative care policy and strategies
- Widening Participation- Spring Up School lecturer May. 2019
King’s College London, London, UK
- Support pupils aged 13-16 from underrepresented backgrounds access highly-selective universities in the UK
- Qualitative research workshop tutor and lead Oct. 2018
King’s College London, London, United Kingdom
- Lead the workshop regarding qualitative research for 2nd year medical students
- The Brilliant Club PhD tutor July. 2018 - 2022
Support pupils from underrepresented backgrounds access highly-selective universities in the UK
- Lecturer of Department of Nursing Sep. 2015 - Jan. 2016
Yuanpei University of Medical Technology, Hsinchu, Taiwan
- Teaching Subject: Oncology Nursing, Hospice and Palliative Care
- Substitute Military Service at the central office in department of nursing Sep. 2014 - Aug. 2015
Taichung Veterans General Hospital, Taichung, Taiwan
- Solved problems and managed difficulties by performing critical thinking and being creative while working in the office.
 - Collaborated with different medical professionals to hold annual events.

- Possess excellent administrative work ability and a positive working attitude.

RESEARCH PROJECT

Improving the advance care planning readiness among older adults with chronic diseases in the community: developing intervention and evaluating its feasibility (funded by National Science and Technology Council)

2022-2025

Palliative care cohort study (HOLISTIC study): sub-project_ validation of the traditional Chinese version of advance care planning scale (funded by National Health Research Institute)

2020-current

- Aim: to validate a translated traditional Chinese version of advance care planning scale in Taiwan

WHO global palliative care evaluation with six countries worldwide

2020-current

- Participated countries: Belarus, Jamaica, Oman, Thailand, VietNam and Zimbabwe
- Aim: to conduct a comparative longitudinal evaluation of 6 heterogeneous palliative care service models, in terms of structures, processes, outputs, outcomes and costs, to describe the comparative health systems in which they operate, and to develop data sharing platforms to inform replicable palliative care service evaluation.

DIAdIC clinical trial with six European countries (UK taskforce member)

2020-Feb 2021

- Participated countries: Belgium, Denmark, Italy, Ireland, the Netherlands and the UK
- Aim: to evaluate the effectiveness, cost-effectiveness and mechanisms of action of two psychoeducational interventions (a face-to-face nurse-led intervention called FOCUS+ and an eHealth intervention called iFOCUS) aimed at improving the emotional function and self-efficacy of patients with advanced cancer and their family caregiver.

Out of hour project for people with serious health related suffering in the last year of life (taskforce member)

2020-2022

- Participated country: UK
- Aim: to systematically review the evidence for models of out-of-hours care for patients with serious health related suffering in the last year of life in the community and their families. The findings will inform a logic model detailing linkage between the components of care delivered, the intended outcomes and sustainability of the models.

Asia advance care planning Delphi study among six Asian countries (taskforce member)

2018-current

- Participated countries: Taiwan, Japan, Singapore, Hong Kong, South Korea and Indonesia
- Aim: to develop a culturally-adapted advance care planning definition and recommendations for clinical practice, research and policy

Asia advance care planning comparative study (Co-author)

2018-current

- Participated countries: Taiwan, Japan, Singapore, Hong Kong, South Korea and Indonesia
- Aim: to explore and compare the differences of advance care planning development among participated countries

Taiwan palliative care white paper (taskforce member)

2018-2019

- Aim: to develop a white paper of palliative care to guide the policy development in Taiwan
